

2011 FORD RANGER

Fuel efficiency, affordability and flexibility are all combined in the 2011 Ford Ranger, delivering a small pickup that's big on value.

Ranger has three trim levels – XL, XLT and Sport – that deliver an impressive array of optional equipment that enables compact truck customers to combine their wants and needs. Additionally, a Class III trailer hitch is standard across the line.

For added entertainment on the road, XLT and Sport models also are available with SIRIUS® Satellite Radio. Ranger also comes with an Anti-Lock Brake System and Ford's exclusive AdvanceTrac® with RSC® (Roll Stability Control™). The only available electronic stability control system with two gyroscopic effect sensors, AdvanceTrac with RSC measures vehicle motion about both the yaw and roll axes.

SAFETY/STANDARD

- AdvanceTrac® with RSC® (Roll Stability Control™)
- Airbags, driver and front passenger seats
- Seat-mounted side airbags
- Personal Safety System™, a suite of safety technologies, including dual-stage front airbags for the driver and front-seat passenger, seat belt pretensioners, load-limiting retractors, seat position sensing and crash severity sensing
- Tire Pressure Monitoring System
- LATCH (Lower Anchors and Tether Anchors for Children)
- Side intrusion beams
- Four-wheel Anti-Lock Brake System (ABS)

TOUGH DETAILS

Well-engineered details are evident in the design of Ranger. The lower-front bumper valance has an integrated one-inch air deflector to help reduce drag and improve fuel economy, while large fog lamps provide excellent visibility and a tougher appearance. Sport SuperCab trucks offer standard step bars, while the Sport SuperCab 4x4 is equipped with standard skid plates to protect major truck components.
