- Ford has more than 85,000 U.S. employees.

FORD WILL CONTINUE TO SUPPORT U.S. JOBS

- Ford announced a plan, two years from now, to move production of the Ford Focus in Michigan so it can achieve financial success with that vehicle. This change was part of the contract Ford ratified with the UAW last year.
- There is absolutely no impact on U.S. jobs. In fact, Ford is moving two exciting new vehicles – that have not even been announced yet – to the Michigan plant where the Focus is produced.
- Ford will continue to make cars, SUVs and trucks in the United States, as it has for more than 100 years.
